MISS LYDIA CLARK WEDS NAVY OFFICER

Becomes Bride of Paymaster William Gilmore Neill This Afternoon.

The marriage of Miss Lydia Clark, daughter of Mr. Frank H. Clark, and Paymaster William Gilmore Neill, U. S. N., will be solemnized this afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the apartment of the bride's mother in the Brighton.

The Rev. Dr. U. G. B. Pierce, of All Souls' Church, will officiate. The bride will be given in marriage by her brother, Commander F. H. Clark, U. S. N., and will be attended by her cousin, Miss Arabella Clark, of Boston.

The bride's gown is a graceful model of soft white satin with draped bodice and skirt, embroidered with butterfly motifs of pearls. The skirt is short, the bodice has long sleeves of tulle, with butterfly bows of tulle on the shoulders, and the same soft fabric finishes the gown at the neck.

NEIGHBORS EXCITED OVER BOY 'PROPHET'

Residents in Vicinity of "Grand Adept's" Home Show Curiosity.

(Continued from First Page.) A dark brown, heavy black beard covers the lower part of his face and neck. A moustache, the end of which point upward, completely conceals the expression of the face about the mouth. He has a sharp straight nose, dark piercing eyes and heavy black hair. He was dressed in a blue chinchilla overcoat, a dark suit of ordinary cut, and wore a black derby hat.

He is taller than his son, the "prophet," and does not appear so old as his disciple, the head of the local cult, Miss Agnes E. Marsland, yesterday stated him to be.

He has won considerable fame as a juggler and performer of Hindoo magic, first gaining distinction as a juggler, and then as a performer of Hindoo magic, first gaining distinction as a juggler, and then as a performer of Hindoo magic.

effect that there has been a schism in our ranks. Of course, we have many enemies, and many of those who came to us and whom we undertook to help have left us because they could not understand the great truth and sought material gain. We don't want them, anyway."

Miss Marsland then named a number of men and women who have severed connections with the organization.

"Any man who suffers has enemies," said another member of the society, "it is the fate of those carrying the burden of Karma. He who helps the world does it through suffering and humiliation. However, our great leader's motto is 'Forward, ever forward.'"

It has been learned from those in touch with the matter that Houdou Sadou, or Augustus Sarack, the "Grand Adept," has been enjoying "rest and peace." It was learned that he eats as ordinary people do, and his food, carefully prepared for him by culinary experts, is of the same variety as that eaten by his followers.

Prof. Ely Tells of Loyalty of Original District Dwellers.

Had residents on the site of the District of Columbia suspected the treatment that their descendants and successors would receive at the hands of Congress, they might have turned the scale of war in favor of the British during the Revolution, according to Prof. Selden Marvin Ely, in his address last night before the Columbia Historical Society. The meeting was held in the gold room of the Shoreham.

Prof. Ely excoverted Congress for calling citizens of the District of Columbia "tax dodgers." He pointed out that during the revolutionary period the Virginia and Maryland archives show residents of the then future District took a vital part in the war.

Prof. Ely continued: "Had these men whose names and deeds will be recorded forever, known that their land and descendants would be subjected to humiliations by Congress, they would have been justified in being torpedoes. And who knows but that from their numbers, their courage, and their strategic position at the head of navigation of the Potomac, they might have turned the results in favor of King George?"

KIDNAPED PILOT NEAR HOME

Creston C. Jenkins Carried to Scotland, Reaches America.

BALTIMORE, March 21.—Pilot Creston C. Jenkins, who was carried to Scotland on the steamer Kenmore because the sea was too rough for him to leave the ship when he passed out of the Cape, is on the steamer Dromedary, of the Johnson line, which passed in the Cape yesterday.

Except for a brief message received from him on February 23, when the Kenmore reached Leith, Scotland, his family have had no word from him. He has been absent for two months.

DANIELS CHANGES INTERNMENT PLANS

Georgia Forts, Not Ready for German Seamen Now At Philadelphia.

Eleventh-hour changes in the plans of the commandant of the Philadelphia navy yard, to transfer to Fort Mifflin and Oglethorpe, Ga., the 700 interned sailors from the German auxiliary cruisers in Philadelphia, were made today by the Navy Department, on the recommendation of Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army.

The special train bearing the Germans with troops and Secret Service men who will act as guards, was to have left Philadelphia for the Georgia posts today. At the last minute it was decided to postpone the transfer, because the army posts are not yet in shape for receiving and holding the foreigners who have caused their guards so much worry in recent days.

Secretary Daniels later was advised that the Seventeenth Infantry, which is to be sent from the border to guard the camps, will not be at the Georgia army posts until later in the week. The transfer will be made when the regulars reach the posts.

Ensnared in secrecy are the plans of the Navy Department for the transfer of the men. Realizing that much trouble could be caused by curious citizens and disloyal persons, Secretary Daniels and his associates in other departments have decided to keep from the public, as far as possible, the Government's arrangements for taking the Germans to the Southern concentration camps.

Dandurff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that itching and dandruff will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.
